BELOIT CLUB GIVES COMIC OPERA HERE

Treble Clef Presents "Pirates of Penzance" at Myers Theater

It was a joy Thanksgiving day for the members of the Treble Clef club of Beloit who appeared at the Myers Theater at matinee and evening performances Thursday. The entire party came to Janesville on a special excursion car. Between the afternoon and evening performances a picnic supper was served on the stage of the theater and the pirates and dainty chorus girls enjoyed a merry gathering.

The plot of the opera is centered around a pirate apprentice, Frederic, who at his twenty-first birthday is free to choose his future. Scene one, is set off a rocky shore on the coast of Cornwall, where the band of noble pirates reign, and it is here that Frederic decides that there are more beautiful women than his aged nurse girl, whom the band wish him to marry. The enchanted spot is invaded by the daughters of Major General Stanley and the young pirate apprentice becomes infatuated with his youngest daughter, Mabel.

In the second act, centered at a ruined chapel, it is learned by Frederic that his birth came on the twenty-ninth of February and he was only five and one-quarter years old by the contract and it was his duty to remain a pirate until his twenty-first birthday. In the end, the police brigade capture the bold pirate and release the apprentice from his long servitude.

Miss Adeline Green, as Mabel, easily lead the cast and scored a triumph with the audience. Her acting was natural and pleasing, her singing with a clear soprano voice, was a delight. W. J. Tucker, in the role of Pirate Chief, was true to his cast with the bluster and received many encores for his solos. R. J. Jenkins, as Frederic, the apprentice, had a difficult part to play, though his lines calling for sorrow and remorse, despite which fact he made a favorable impression.

Cleaver, who acted, the best being the marching drill in the second act, which called for talented singing by Miss Green, and the maneuvers were awarded with praise from all. A large orchestra was a very pleasing feature of the performance, and was in perfect harmony at all times with the staging.

GOLF CLUB DANCE AT THE ASSEMBLY HALL

Charming Dancing Party Held Thanksgiving Night—Krells Orchestra From Chicago Furnished Music.

Thursday evening the annual dance of the Winnebago Golf Club, was held at Assembly Hall. The dance music furnished by Krells orchestra of Chicago proved most satisfactory and it was not until three this morning that the last measure was played for the ray through which enjoyed the affair. The hall was decorated handsomely for the Triennial dance on Wednesday evening, the same scheme being utilized by the Golf Club. During the evening a buffet luncheon was served. Much to the surprise of many, the dancing of the tango by some of the guests was not a feature of the refined type that Janesville was supposed to have adopted as the mode of enjoying this new creation of the tango. Many of the dancers appeared to give the tango abandon to the steps and postures that have given the dance discredit. It was unfortunate that this occurred as it marred what was otherwise one of the most successful parties ever given by the Golf Club. The committee having charge of the affair, Misses Helen Jettis, Marion Blodgett and Emma Richardson deserve much credit for their efforts which were crowned with success.

THANKSGIVING DAY WEDDINGS POPULAR

Miss Mabel Crossman Weds John E. Scott—Miss Lulu Belle Smith is Bride of Owen E. Lloyd.

The wedding of Miss Mabel Elizabeth Crossman, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Crossman, 215 Glen street, to John Edward Scott of this city, was solemnized at the bride's home Thursday afternoon, the Reverend Joseph Chalmers Hazen reading the marriage service.

At the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march, which was played by Miss Lucine Jones, the bridal party took its place under a arch of green and white in the living room of the Crossman home. The bride was attended by Miss Jennie Crossman of Elgin, Ill., her sister, and Stanley R. Crossman of this city was groomsmen.

The bride was attired in a gown of white crepe de chine with an over drape of silk chantilly lace and pearl trimming. The bridesmaid wore a dress of pink shell messaline and white lace trimming with marabout. A wedding dinner was served under the directions of Mrs. E. R. C. Jones as caterer. Mr. and Mrs. Scott left last evening for a short trip after which they will reside in this city.

Smith-Lloyd. Miss Lulu Belle Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Smith, residing on the Milwaukee road three miles east of Janesville, and Owen E. Lloyd of this city, were united in marriage at the bride's home Thursday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Laughlin.

Miss Dora M. Hatch of Madison was the bridesmaid and J. P. Hammarlund of this city attended the groom. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to about forty guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd left yesterday afternoon for a wedding trip, after which they will be at home to their many Janesville friends at 303 Terrace street. Mr. Lloyd is employed as a conductor on the C. M. and St. P. road and formerly lived at Shullsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lloyd of Shullsburg, parents of the groom, were here for the wedding.

To Stain Wicker.

To stain wicker chairs take five cents' worth of glue and five cents' worth of brown umber. Mix the glue with one pint of boiling water and when quite dissolved put in the umber and mix well. When cool apply to the wicker with a soft brush. This is also a cheap and effective floor stain.

Seven Hundred Dollars' Damage Suffered at Alderman and Drummond.

Fire originating from defective wiring caused about seven hundred dollars damage to the Alderman and Drummond garage on East Milwaukee street, shortly after six o'clock Wednesday evening.

The fire started in the rear of the building and the flames kindled by the oil-soaked floor gained rapid headway and only by efficient work by the department, who flooded the room with three leads of hose, was the front part of the garage saved and serious damage prevented.

There were a number of automobiles stored in the room, several of which were damaged.

From the repair room, the flames spread to the second floor and engulfed through an air shaft and when the department arrived the ceiling was a mass of flames. The fire was one that was extremely dangerous to handle as there was highly inflammable material stored in the rear room and had the flames gained access to the barrels, an explosion would have spread the fire enough to cause a bad conflagration.

The top of one of the cars in the adjoining room was buried and the windshields on two other autos were cracked by the heat. Chief Klein had inspected the building the day previous and had given instructions the repairing of the wires in the rear room and the emergency was intended to make the repairs within a short time.

FRIDAY. AND JINKS IS NOT THE ONLY ONE.

Sport Snap Shots

Since he defeated Sam Langford at Boston a week or so ago, Gunboat Smith has come to be regarded by many as the present boss of the heavies. Ill' Artha of course is out of it now and so it would seem that Smith has a better right to the claim than anyone else. However, there yet remains a shade of doubt in the average fight fan's mind over the question of Gunboat's fitness for the place and it has grown out of that rather queer decision he won in his fight with Carl Morris. Many fans remember that at the time Morris was going at a boat clip and there seemed every reason to believe that he would be able to grab the honors of the fight. Smith clearly was in distress at the time. He had offered Morris his speediest punches and they hadn't bothered Carl much. And then in the fifth round the referee gave Smith the decision on a foul and he was most evidently relieved. Many fans present at the time were indignant at the outcome and declared that Morris had everything coming his way and little cause to want to foul. It would be hard to convince a great many of these present that Morris would not have been handily had not the decision been rendered. Moreover, there are expert ringiders who declare that Morris is the best heavy in the game. Nate Lewis is sure of it. "He doesn't stack up with the big boys of yesterday," says Lewis, "but he's as good as anything we have today. He's awkward and slow, but he's a fighter and he's game. Also he has confidence in himself. Maybe he wouldn't make a great showing on points in ten rounds, but he can lick any heavyweight in twenty rounds." However, later on when these two get together there will be no need for quibbling the point any more.

Jack Root, the old Chicago middleweight, says it gives him an awful switch in the side to watch some of the present-day fighters. They're a pretty sad crate of lemons compared to the boys of yesterday, and that's a fact, says Root, Jack in his day was one of the speediest middleweights in the game and he's up to know whereof he speaks. Alas and alas if we only had a few McCoy's or Ryans or Dixons now, sighs Root, to come along and knock a few of the present day scrappers a-kicking. Fifteen years ago or so they had regular bouts, but today it is to snicker. "A fighter that knows anything," says Jack, "has no excuse for getting marked up in a battle. There's no reason why his face should be battered up if he is familiar with the rudiments of ducking and feinting. A visit to any of the fighting clubs today shows pretty clearly why the cars are being had by many of the fighters of today. George Dixon was the lad who knew how to get away without receiving punishment. He'd catch the wallop on his opponent, but he'd steer them into the air. Ryan averaged millions of k.o. blows by a simple little twist of his head. They would try to rush Kid McCoy and he would sidestep and hand them one as they went by. They could time a blow to the front of an inch and that's just what the present fighters lack. They haven't that sixth sense of timing wallops so invaluable to any fighter. But there'll be another era of the chess boxers. The day will come when they will be just as fast and scientific as the fighters of a decade and a half ago. They'll have to learn in the meantime that slugging isn't boxing."

ARMY-NAVY CONTEST WILL CLOSE SEASON

Tomorrow First Time That Game Has Been Played in New York—Cadets and Midshipmen to Come.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New York, Nov. 28.—The football season for 1913 will close tomorrow afternoon when the rival teams from the United States Military and Naval Academies meet for their annual gridiron battle on the Polo grounds in this city. This will be the first time that the annual contest between the two branches of the service has ever been played in New York, and with the additional seating facilities of the Polo Grounds the game is expected to take on even greater importance than it has in former years, when played at Princeton Field in Philadelphia. The seating capacity at the Polo Grounds has been re-arranged and additional stands and several field boxes have been built. Accommodations are provided for 40,000 spectators. The Army will occupy the south side of the main grandstand and the Navy will sit on the north side.

REGULARS DEFEAT CLASS CHAMPIONS

First Team of High School Plows Through Sophomores for a Total of 55 Points on Turkey Day.

The curtain for the Janesville high school football season was rung down Wednesday afternoon, when the first team routed the class champions, the sophomores, by a 55 to 0 score. The victory was not a credit to the regulars as both teams played poorly, the contestants being guilty of many costly individual slips, when the modern style was attempted.

In the first quarter the first team ripped through the second year men for a total of 19 points and dampened the ardor of the class champ's followers. The Sophs had plenty of chances to run through the regulars, as their tackling was weak, and the line gave way for numerous gains. In the third period Dalton increased the lead with a touchdown on a shoe string play and hammered his way across the goal line soon after for his third touchdown. A fumble from an open play formation, Stewart covered the ball and raced thirty yards for a touchdown. Atwood was true with his tee and the five attempts were between the posts.

The regulars were unable to batter the second year men's line for material gains and again resorted to the open field work, uncoiling a series of forwards that sent Atwood across for another touchdown. The Sophs worked the plugging to the middle of the field and started to back through the wings of their opponents, and after a few rushes found that the first team's forward wall had stiffened, and then worked the fake forward pass for consistent gains. The play was over-worked and Stewart and Dalton repeatedly threw the ball markers by intercepting a pass and by good open field running dodged through half of the Sophs for a touchdown.

The Sophs showed the regulars several tricks that were new to them and at periods played the first team to a standstill. A few minutes before time was called Halback Lee punched the regulars' line for good gains and for the first time of the game, the first team's goal was threatened. Lee at half was the best man that the Sophs had and several times he plowed through tackle for distance enough to make downs. Rau and Cronin showed an well as the defense. On the first team Dalton, Atwood and Dearborn, were able to make steady gains, and Dalton was a continual source of trouble to the losers. Hemming proved himself a kicker above the average when in the second half on a kick-off, he booted the ball twenty yards over the goal line. Stobin, wisely attempted to run the ball out, ending his team two points.

Summary: Marsh, C. Slawson, J. McMenamy, Jr.; Kalkuska, H. McGinley, Jr.; Moore, Jr.; Beard, W. Stobin, G. Lee, H. Cronin, H. Rau, H.

WOODWORTH CLOSES BRILLIANT CAREER

Former Local High School Star Quits Gridiron Following Yesterday's Contest With St. Thomas.

Playing easily the best game for Marquette university against the husky St. Thomas football squad at Milwaukee yesterday, "Cherry" Lee Woodworth closed one of the most successful careers in the history of the game. His playing was wonderful yesterday, with the exception of his inability to execute perfect passes, the ball being too wet to handle. The Marquette players were defeated 13 to 0.

St. Thomas began the game by sending their mighty fullback directly over the tackle which Woodworth was playing. In the first two plays, "Cherry" held them for no gain, the first play resulting in a loss of four yards. During the remainder of the game Woodworth was always on the bottom of the tackle, while his playmate, Vater, who captains the Marquette warriors, could not stop the heavy rushes of the cadets.

After playing four years on the Janesville high school eleven, Woodworth went to Beloit college, where he played successfully for one year. He was elected captain in his sophomore year, but instead of returning to Beloit for the second year, he entered Marquette university at Milwaukee, where he has played for the past three seasons. He was a reserve in his first year at Marquette, but last fall, and this season, has been one of the mainstays of the team. His showing against Butler, Wisconsin university's all-American tackle, was short of marvelous. He handled the giant from Madison at all times, and deserved more credit than is really given him. He has one more year at Marquette, where he is taking history, but it is not likely he will break into the molasses for another year.

IN HARD LINES.
The railroads of the country are confronted with a problem which has no parallel in the annals of railway history. The federal government, as well as the states, has the right to regulate the two sources of revenue on which these corporations depend for existence. As a result the two cent passenger fare is almost universally enforced, compelling many trains to be operated at a loss.
The only other source of revenue is the freight department, and all efforts to secure the consent of the Interstate Commerce Commission to permit an advance of five per cent have thus far failed.
In a recent interview with the commission, Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio, and F. A. Delano, receiver for the Washash, set forth in detail the conditions of the roads, showing that the new capital invested during the past three years, amounting to more than six hundred million dollars, had been unrewarded, and that money, much needed for extensions and betterments, could no longer be secured.
Some of the regulations recently adopted call for steel cars, block systems, a full train crew, and the increased expense attached calls for hundreds of millions of dollars. The railroads are also the prey of every state in the matter of taxation, for which Wisconsin prides itself with a four million dollar levy this year.
Many advances in wares have also been secured, during the past few years, and the government just now is bleeding the roads to the queen's taste on the parcels post business.
The roads are "getting it in the neck" from every quarter, and unless there is a radical change of policy, the experience of 1893 will be repeated. It is about time to call a halt on regulation, when it borders so close to confiscation.

Norman Hapgood, formerly editor of Collier's Weekly, and now a salient light in the Harper publications, occupied the same platform with Union Sinclair, the other night in New York. The audience was largely composed of women, assembled to discuss the sex hygiene problem, which is just now attracting so much attention. Emma Goldman was present, as was also Mrs. Pankhurst. Hapgood seems to have struck his level and it is easy to understand where he gathers inspiration for his tirades in Harper's Weekly, which publication vies with Collier's in being the great national regulator.

Governor Blease of South Carolina added to his notoriety by paroling one hundred state convicts. This is twenty-five more than he liberated last Thanksgiving, and swells the record to nine hundred, during his term of office. The governor is naturally popular with the criminal classes, and the good people of his state have long been humiliated.

Saturday marks the closing of the football season for 1913 with a game played between the Army and Navy teams. Harvard is the eastern champion and Chicago the western, while the rest are merely trailers.

The Pittsburgh man who was sentenced to the workhouse for thirty days for beating his wife 2,080 times is doubtless one of those who consider Delaware's whipping post a disgrace to civilization.

When the currency bill passed, congress adjourned, the White House wedding over and peace restored in Mexico, life is likely to become for Mr. Wilson, one glad, sweet yawn.

Now if somebody will send in a check to pay for future storage charges on the wedding presents, Mrs. Jessie Wilson-Sayre and her husband ought to be happy.

It may perhaps have been noticed that the western man who volunteered to marry Mrs. Pankhurst has not made his offer a general one in the suffragist camp.

There was precedent in the good old days for the slit skirt. But father seldom wore it in public except when the house caught fire during the night.

With ten new U. S. A. aeroplanes provided this season it is not to be wondered at that the aviation corps knows the burial service by heart.

The Mexicans may as well understand that Sunday bull fights and balls are not compatible with the sort of war other countries make.

It may have been in the nature of a revelation to many people that Major General Leonard Wood was in a position to fall off a horse.

If that "roast" consisting of beans, cheese and bread crumbs is called Boston roast, why the cheese and the bread crumbs?

The opposition to Huerta in Mexico is almost as fierce as though the rebels were afraid he wanted to make them go to work.

Why shouldn't the Standard Oil company cut a few more melons than ordinarily, considering the cost of eggs and beef?

Now that Thanksgiving is over remember the slogan and do your Christmas shopping early.

Kickin' 'bout the grafters
And the swags they get.
Old new looks dejected,
Says in tones demure,
"When it comes to kickin',
I'm an amateur."

Those Plumes.
The plume adorning Maggie's hat
Is six feet long, I know it.
I doubt, indeed, if there's a bird
That's tall enough to grow it.

She sits within the trolley car
And strikes a lot of poses;
She swings that six-foot plume around
And tickles twenty noses.

Unwittingly she dusts the roof,
Wipes cobwebs from the ceiling,
And, brushing the conductor's chin,
Gives him a creepy feeling.

No style too freakish can be made
For women dear, we swear it;
No mode can be so horrible,
But what some girl will wear it.

Heart to Heart Talks

By CHARLES N. LURIE

SUPPOSE—
Suppose you were forty-three years old.
Suppose that for almost twenty-seven years you had been a helpless cripple, with your joints becoming solid bone, so that movement slowly, but surely, became impossible.
Further, suppose that cure was out of the question.
If you could use only your right shoulder and the middle joints of two fingers on your right hand—
Do you think that you could write a book on patience?
Thomas F. Lockhart of Wellington, Mo., did so.
Lockhart is dead after years of suffering, but his example remains.
Crippled and almost helpless, he penned the words which sold far and wide and brought him enough money to buy the house in which he lived and pay for a nurse.
You who have all your faculties unimpaired and yet complain that you have no chance, think of Lockhart!
Think of Helen Keller; think of Laura Bridgman; reflect on Alexander Pope, most quoted of English poets except Shakespeare, a cripple from his early years; think of Charles Darwin, giant among scientists, working hard amid acute physical pains.
The world's history teems with such. The gasoline which makes the automobile engine go might be compared to the energy inherent in the human body, but without the oil which lubricates the engine's parts the machine could not go very far.
That is the function of patience. It acts as the oil to make the human machinery move swiftly and noiselessly to its goal.
It is well for us that we do not need so great an amount of patience as that which upheld Lockhart through his decades of suffering and which enabled the afflicted great of the world to do the work which made them famous.
There's was the patience to endure and to achieve. Most of us need only the faculty of waiting.
It is that of which Burroughs, the poet-naturalist, sings:
Serenely I fold my hands and wait,
Nor care for what or life or fate,
I have no more "what-ifs" than fate,
For, lo, my own shall come to meet
I stay my haste, I make delays,
For what awaits this eager pace?
I stand amid the eternal ways,
And what is mine shall know my pace.

TENER TO HEAD THE NATIONAL IS RUMOR

John K. Tener (top) and Thomas Lynch.

It is rumored in National league circles that John K. Tener of Pittsburgh, now governor of Pennsylvania, but a great ball player in his time, has been selected to succeed Thomas Lynch as president of the National league. It is said Tener will be named for the job without opposition.

Robert M. LaFollette, Jr.

Young "Bob" LaFollette, eldest son of Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin, is starting early to trace his father's career. His first feat of "political" achievement was to capture the presidency of the freshman class of the University of Wisconsin over three other candidates. He is now head of 1,600 first-graduates.

"HIAWATHA"
The filming of the modest Longfellow epic, "Hiawatha," is a distinct and valuable addition to the none too large supply of moving picture classics. The work has been done with a most conscientious thoroughness. The charms of the summer and rigors of the winter are eloquently visualized before us. All the beauties of the North American landscape are there. It was like a breath of fresh air to see real human Indians enacting before us an old Indian legend. The Indians of these reels show all that stoic and impressive calm which the white man has never been quite able to understand. The producer had conquered both the spirit and the letter of the legend, and the spirit in the poem is the spirit of the Indian race. There is a spell in these films, a note of sadness, a touch of tragedy, which are the most distinct characteristic of the Indian race. The pictures will be popular and much sought after, not only by intelligent and wide-awake exhibitors, but by schools and chautauquas as well.
"Hiawatha" is a finely rounded and strikingly beautiful work, notable for its marvelous attention to details. It is, as far as I know, the only true motion picture of Indian life. The picture is set in a frame of surpassing magnificence. As a spectacle, it is unique.—W. Stephen Bush, in the Moving Picture World.

Oldest Epigram.

An epigram must pass through many hands and get much polishing before it is a perfect jewel. You may remember how Oscar Wilde sent (on the stage) the man of the world through the drawing room door with the epigram. "There is one thing I never could resist; that is temptation." But you may trace it from the Garden of Eden, where the masculine plea for mercy was that the "woman tempted me."

LA PRAIRIE COUPLE WEDDED TUESDAY

Miss Maria Wellnitz and Anton Heider Married at St. Mary's Church by the Rev. Father Goebel.

Miss Maria Wellnitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wellnitz of Emerald Grove, and Anton Heider, were married at St. Mary's church in this city at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning by the Rev. Father W. A. Goebel. The bride was attired in a gown of cream silk messaline. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Heider and the wedding party, journeyed to the home of the bride where a five course dinner was served. Dancing began at nine o'clock in the evening and continued until morning. Mr. and Mrs. Heider will begin housekeeping on a farm in the town of La Prairie. Both are well known young people, with many friends, who extend to them congratulations.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

III With Pneumonia: Mrs. H. D. Mentzer, formerly Miss Susie Nesbit of this city, is seriously ill with pneumonia at the city hospital in Seattle, Washington, where her home is located. Her suffering has been terrible for the past three weeks, her heart gradually growing weaker. The physicians claim she has a fighting chance for recovery. Mrs. Mentzer was well known in this city, having made Janesville her home during the early part of her life.

Hawaiian Act at the Apollo

A big vaudeville novelty makes a hit at popular playhouse.

One of the best vaudeville novelties that have been seen in Janesville is now being featured at the Apollo Theatre. The act in question, "Queen Liliuokalani's Royal Hawaiian Sextette" is a product of Honolulu, the capital of the Hawaiian Islands. The sextette sing their native songs in their mother tongue as well as popular songs in English. They made their first appearance in Janesville yesterday and played to packed houses at all shows at the Apollo. They have a fascinating dance called the Hula Dance, that made a hit. They are unusually good singers, dancers and musicians.

Two other good acts are shown, Al Massey, the comedy clarinetist and the Power Brothers, the European Acrobatic Marvels. See this bill tonight. Advertisement.

HIGH PRIEST OF THE SUN WORSHIPERS IS HAVING HIS TROUBLES IN CHICAGO

Otoman Zar-Adusht Hanish.

Otoman Zar-Adusht Hanish, high priest of the Mazdaznan Sun cult of 14,000 worshippers, has just been placed on trial in Chicago, charged with violating the government laws prohibiting the sending of obscene literature from one state to another. Although Hanish claims he is of oriental birth, his aged father will testify that Hanish was born in Germany, came to this country in his youth and is a faker. Two of Hanish's sisters will offer the same testimony.

NOTES IMPROVEMENT IN COUNTRY SCHOOLS

Teachers Enlarging Scope of Their Activities—Interest Parents in Work—Suggestions Made.

Marked improvement in the conduct of country schools, particularly in the broadening of their scope of work and usefulness is noted by County Superintendent O. D. Antisdel who has visited ninety or more of the 170 odd schools under his supervision since the middle of September. He has visited schools in every township except the town of Lima, his endeavor being to visit all the outlying ones earliest before travelling through the country becomes difficult and uncertain.

Meetings for mothers and meetings for parents are being called at intervals in many districts for the purpose of securing their more effective cooperation with the teacher in the education of the children. The idea of the school as a community social center is also gaining a foothold and social gatherings, which develop a healthy community spirit as well as afford recreation are increasing in number. Many of the schools had Thanksgiving programs on Wednesday. From year to year the practical instruction in agriculture has been increased and teachers are becoming better prepared to impart the instruction.

RAILROAD TRAINMEN GIVE ANNUAL DANCE

Over Two Hundred Couples Attend Trainmen's Ball on Thanksgiving Eve at Assembly Hall.

The twenty-eighth annual ball of the Rock River Lodge No. 210, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, given at the Assembly hall on Thanksgiving eve, lacked nothing to make the affair a success. Two hundred and twenty-five couples were present, the large hall being taxed to hold the dancers. Hatch's orchestra furnished the music and dancing was enjoyed until the early hours of the morning.

The committee, consisting of D. P. Davey, W. R. Fitcher, and R. J. Brown, arrangements, and the floor managers, J. J. Della, Roy Horn, P. J. Dixon, J. E. Conley, P. J. Murphy, George Barry, J. J. Kelly, J. J. Dempsey and W. E. Bates, are to be congratulated on their success.

There were a hundred guests present for the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Lipke will reside in Chicago.

BELOIT IROQUOIS DEFEAT ARLINGTONS OF MILWAUKEE

By a score of 7 to 6 the Beloit Iroquois football team yesterday afternoon defeated the Arlington eleven of Milwaukee by a score of 7 to 6 in a closely contested game. Beloit scored in the first quarter on straight football, Eddie Garrity doing some sensational playing for the Iroquois in forward passes and kicking. In the second quarter the Iroquois lost the ball in a fumble on the Arlington's ten yard line. The latter began a series of forward passes which their opponents were unable to intercept and went right down the field for a touchdown, but missed kicking goal. Beloit was the aggressor all the way through the second half and the ball was in the Milwaukee eleven's territory most of the time. Beloit missed three goals on kicks from the thirty yard line. The game was played on the college field and a large crowd was in attendance.

Shorthand by Machine

SEE STUDENTS WRITING IT

JANESVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE

CENTRAL HALL BLOCK

We are teaching "The Machine Way" in Shorthand to an intensely interested class. And we want you to see these students write on this machine. "The Machine Way in Shorthand" is called Stenotype, and is written on a machine called the Stenotype. The Stenotype is one of the Four Great Machines that are saving the most time today in business.

You have seen its method advertised in the great national magazines. Now come and see, in an actual demonstration, what "Machine Shorthand" is and what it is doing. See what it enables the average young man and woman to do in stenography today.

Weight, Only 8 Lbs.

The STENOTYPE

The Fastest Writing Machine in the World

Writes Plain English Spelling

Here is a system that enables you to write "shorthand" with great speed, accuracy and ease.

For Stenotypy is simply plain English spelling with the silent letters dropped. The Stenotype writes it in plain alphabet type—the kind you learned when you first went to school.

Not one of the usual shorthand characters is used.

So there is only a little to learn about Stenotypy that you don't already know. Learning to write it is mostly a case of learning to write on this simple machine, which embodies only 22 plainly stamped keys.

Come see the Stenotype before you enroll anywhere else. We teach both the "Machine Way" and the "Hand Way" in Shorthand. Come decide which you want to take.

Better Salaries

There are today in business thousands of successful Stenotypists. They are accurate writers and unusually fast, for this machine permits accuracy and speed with ease. And their services, therefore, command higher salaries than are usually paid for stenographic work.

Students of Stenotypy upon graduation are getting a premium price for their services. Because they enter business with a degree of efficiency that is not attained by the ordinary beginner.

Millions of Business Men Now Know

The Stenotype and Stenotypy are now being advertised to millions of business men every month.

Soon every business man who hires stenographers will know what Stenotypists can do.

He will know of these legible Stenotype notes which can be transcribed by any Stenotypist as accurately as by the one who wrote them—notes which are read as easily a year after they were written as the day they were taken down.

315 Colleges Are Teaching Stenotypy

Stenotypy is being taught today in 315 business colleges in every important city in the United States.

Thousands of students, having investigated it, are now learning to take dictation this way.

We are teaching Stenotypy because its principle is fundamentally sound and right—because W. S. Ireland, the inventor, an expert Court Reporter, spent nine years in perfecting it before he announced it—and because the Stenotype and Stenotypists have gained a permanent place in business.

Come See It Today

Call at our offices today and we will demonstrate Stenotypy and the Stenotype.

We will show you why so many students are studying this system. We will show you how you can write on this machine.

You are not obligated in asking a demonstration.

Bring your mother or father with you if you wish.

You will see in this system of taking dictation some great possibilities for a good start in business and future rapid advancement.

So come see the Stenotype. Learn for yourself why it means higher efficiency and better salaries.

POET AND THE INGENUE

By C. WENGLER.

She had come into the hotel grill room with her chaperon. He was dining with a young friend. Eyes were drawn to eyes, and during the long dinner neither saw but one face in that crowded room.

She saw the head of a god, hair tinged with gray, delicate poetic hands, a sensitive mouth and eyes that looked a world of sorrow and understanding. He was a man, old, soul-seared, satisfied. But the girl was too young in life to read signposts.

He saw a young girl with innocent blue eyes, a full, rosy mouth that suggested kisses, cheeks red with a redness that has recently come from the country. She was fresh, full of light and laughter, curiosity and expectation. The man read her with the understanding of the expert in human nature.

When she passed from the grill room her eyes went to his and she smiled as a child smiles at some new and as yet unencountered pleasure. And he looked after her as a connoisseur in human weaknesses who has chanced upon a new toy.

Such was their meeting. The young girl spoke to her chaperon about the man with the godlike head. The chaperon told her that she must never mention his name, that she must not know that sort of a man.

The next morning the girl came into the chaperon's rooms noiselessly. The chaperon was at the telephone.

"Oh, splendid, Jack! I've wanted to meet Owen Marsh ever since I read that exquisite poem of his, 'The Lovers of Lara.' Bring him to tea at four and I'll ask some congenial people. Until four, good-by!"

The girl slipped out of the rooms as quietly as she had come in. She couldn't bear to meet the eyes of her chaperon just then. Owen Marsh was the man with the godlike head!

A little later she returned to her chaperon, to await announcement of the afternoon tea. None came. Instead, that gracious lady turned to her:

"Child, Madam Manette telephoned that she would like you to take your lesson at four today, instead of two. Estelle will call for you at five and take you for a chocolate."

The girl made no reply. Her mind was in a whirl. But about 5:30 that afternoon, as Owen Marsh was whispering insinuatingly into the chaperon's delicate pink ear, a slip of a girl entered the rooms. She walked directly to her chaperon, but without looking at her. Her eyes were on the man with the godlike head.

The chaperon forgot herself. "I thought you were driving in the park," she said stonily.

"Estelle told me you were having a tea," still looking straight at the face that had so thrilled her, "and I didn't want to miss him."

The girl dropped into the chair at the elbow of the man with the wonderful face. And there was nothing for the chaperon to do but—introduce them.

Some one called her away then, and the man and the girl were left alone. In all that roomful of people neither saw any other. It seemed to each that they had waited long for this moment. They made the most of it.

"They couldn't keep us apart," the girl said.

"I have known you always," said the man.

"I love you," said the girl.

"I've always loved you," said the man.

And then some one intruded, some one that could not be escaped.

"I'll meet you under the roses in the corridor," whispered the man.

Before the guests had all taken their leave the girl slipped away. When the man left the chaperon's room he found the girl—waiting—under the roses. He lifted her into the taxi and they drove far out into the country to a little inn, where a room always "waited" for the man.

He named her the Blush of Dawn and called himself the Valley of the Shadow. He was a poet; she was an ingenue. One night of inspiration was his. A night that shattered every illusion was hers. Then he told her that in the Valley of the Shadow men live alone. He went back to his lair with one more sensation living his sluggish blood. It was on such moments that he lived.

She went into the street, for the chaperon was a foolish woman; she closed the door against her. It was for this that the girl had grown up over night.

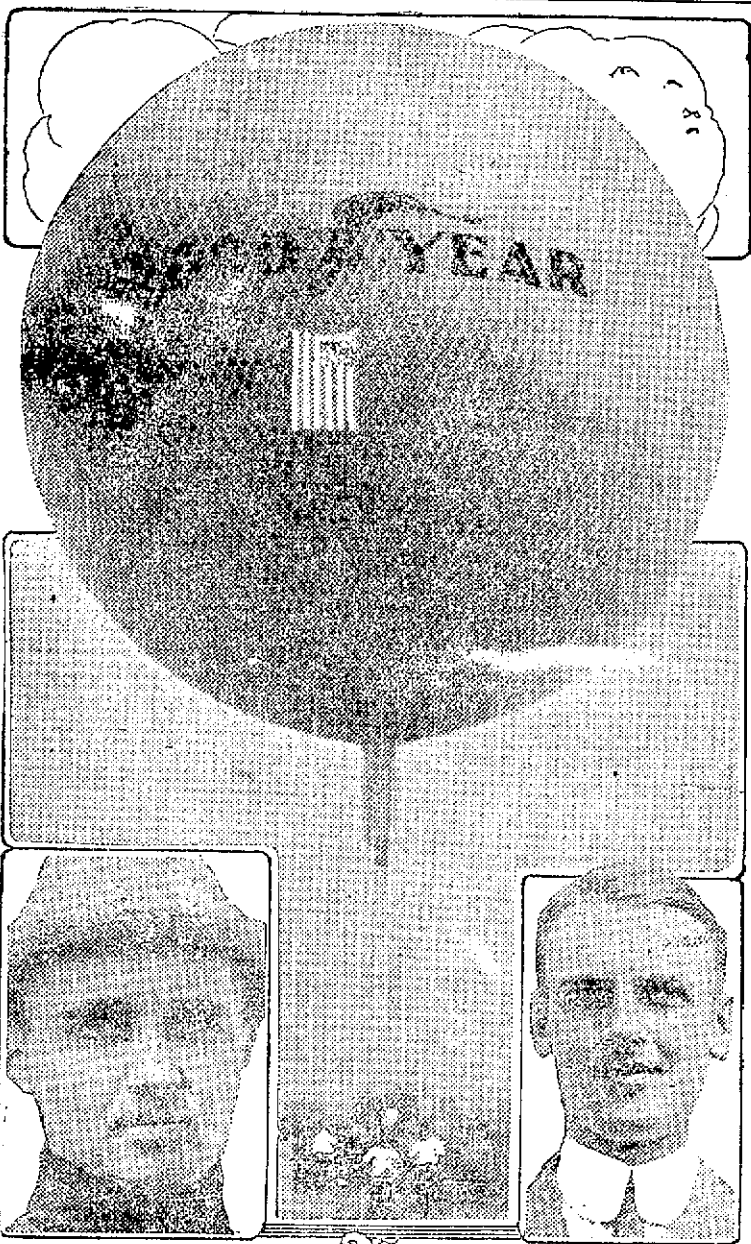

The man boasted of his conquest. He was a poet. Some men turned their backs upon him. Others took up the scent laid bare. Women read the poem the girl had inspired, and asked the poet to dinner. The chaperon sent him a silly note, swearing undying devotion. The girl's aunt invited him to give lectures on Bjornsen and Ibsen in her home of mornings.

But the girl—ah, the girl—why ask?

COMMAND REBEL MACHINE-GUN REGIMENT

Three of the men in command of the regiment of the Mexican rebels who are entitled to the credit of bringing it to its high state of efficiency are Captain Antonio A. Guerrero, Colonel O'Brien and Captain Jose A. Rocha. They have played a big part in practically driving the federals out of northern Mexico.

BREAD SLICER

Every Slice To Be the Same Size And Evenly Cut.

If anyone doubts the importance of bread as an article of diet, he should make a little investigation and learn how many diseases for the slicing of bread have been patented. One would think that a few variations of the same principle would cover the ground, but there are almost as many as there are kinds of bread. The illustration shows one that was designed by a Massachusetts man.

CUTS DIFFERENT SIZES THROUGH.

A wooden trough has vertical slots in its wide walls, the slots on one half being spaced wider apart than on the other half. The loaf is placed in the trough and the knife pressed down through the slots, which guide it so that every slice is evenly cut and of uniform thickness with the others. The thickness depends on which end of the trough is used to cut through.

CABINET SET'S MOST DEMOCRATIC WOMAN

Miss Agnes Wilson.

Miss Agnes Wilson, daughter of the secretary of labor, is said to be the most democratic woman in the cabinet set. She rides in the street cars, attends all sorts of public meetings where there is likely to be excitement, and laughs when she sees a man chasing his hat.

PROMINENT FIGURE IN DIPLOMATIC SET

Lady Spring-Rice.

Lady Spring-Rice takes a prominent place in the diplomatic circle at Washington as the wife of the new British ambassador. She attended the White House wedding Tuesday this being her first appearance at a formal social affair in the capital. She spent the summer at Dublin, N. H., near the president's summer capital, and arrived in Washington only a few days before the Wilson-Sayre wedding.

WHITE SLAVE TELLS COURT HER STORY

Ruth Steele.

Ruth Steele, alleged white slave victim, has appeared as the chief witness in the white slave trial of George Jordan before a federal court at Charleston, West Virginia. Several weeks ago the young woman attempted to commit suicide with bichloride poisoning. She says her attempt to suicide is chargeable to Jordan, who she claims took her from Trenton, Ohio, to Charleston and put her in an evil resort, contrary to her wishes.

SOPHOMORES TRIM SENIORS FOR INTER CLASS TITLE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Milton, Nov. 27.—Sophomores 17, seniors 16, was the score in the final game of the inter-class championship series in basketball at Milton college Tuesday night. The game was fast and exciting throughout, being one of the best ever played in the Milton floor. The seniors had a shade the best of it during the earlier part of the game, and the score at the end of the first half stood 9 to 7 in their favor. The sophomores, however, inspired by the vigorous cheering of their classmates, speeded up to the last notch in the second half, and won the game by one point. Box score:

Seniors: Field goals—Crandall, 1; Wentworth, 2; White, (Capt.), 2; Langworthy, 1. Free throws—Nelson, 2; White, 1. Fouls—Wentworth, 2; Nelson, 1; White, 1; Langworthy, 2. Sophomores: Field goals—Burdick, 2; Lush, 3; Liedholm, 3. Free throws—West, 1; Lush, 2. Fouls—Burdick, 1; West, 2; Lush, 2; Thorngate, 2.

Referee—R. V. Hurley. The form shown by players of both teams in this game is a favorable sign for a successful season in basketball for Milton college this year. The victors were awarded a handsome banner the winning of which was celebrated by the sophomore class with a party and jubilation at the home of one of its members, Miss Rachel Conn.

Olympic Gods.

The gods and goddesses of Mount Olympus were twelve in number, their names and offices being as follows: Jupiter or Jove, the chief; Neptune, god of the sea and earthquakes; Apollo, son of Jupiter, the god of fire; Mars, the god of war; Mercury, the god of eloquence; Juno, of prophecy, music and song; Vulcan, the wife of Jupiter, Minerva, goddess of wisdom; Diana, sister of Apollo, goddess of hunting; Venus, goddess of love and beauty; Vesta, goddess of the domestic hearth; Ceres, the goddess of corn and agriculture.

AFTER GRIPPE

Made Strong by Vinol. John C. Furman, of Clarion, Pa., says: "After a very severe attack of the grippe my system was in a weakened, nervous and run-down condition. I had no appetite at all. I was obliged to continue with my work, and nothing seemed to help me until a friend induced me to take Vinol. I began to note good results from the first bottle. I continued its use and am now sound and well as ever."

In health one cannot realize how depressed a person may become after trying one remedy after another without benefit for such a condition as Mr. Furman was in, or what a relief it is to find help and be restored to health and strength.

It is the combined action of the medicinal curative element of cods' livers without the greasy oil, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron, that makes Vinol so efficient in building up the weakened run-down system.

We guarantee Vinol to give you perfect satisfaction. Smith Drug Co., Druggists, Janesville, Wis.

REACH SETTLEMENT IN WENDT TROUBLE NATIONAL HOUSING CONFERENCE OPENS

Johnstown Man Promises to Leave Divorced Wife Alone and Case Against Him is Dismissed. Albert Wendt of the Town of Johnstown reached an agreement with his divorced wife, who had caused his arrest earlier in the week on the charge of assault with murderous intent, and on the motion of District Attorney Dunwiddie the case against him was dismissed by Judge Maxwell this morning. Mrs. Wendt, who was in the court room assured the judge that she was satisfied with the terms of agreement and was confident that her former husband would bother her no more. According to the terms Wendt will sell his property and a division will be made as soon as an order can be secured in the Circuit court where the divorce was granted. Two men who had been too bilious in their Thanksgiving spree were arraigned in court this morning. William Morrison, a well dressed young man, who claimed to be a Chicago salesman, was glad to get off with a fine of $5 and costs which he paid. A shoe string peddler, claiming Dubuque as his home, drew a six day jail term. Judgments were rendered in the court against William A. Ziesing and C. E. Knell for $52.03 in favor of the Bower City Bank, and against Lester Austin in favor of G. D. Cannon for $32.42, both on promissory notes. WOODMEN INSURGENTS OPEN STATE CONVENTION (By Associated Press.) Fond du Lac, Nov. 28.—Five hundred Modern Woodmen "Insurgents" today attended the opening session of the state convention presided over by David W. Agnew, a Wausauite. Former State Senator C. B. Culberson made a report on work of the legislative committee before the last session of the legislature. One of the important features of the convention will be the financing of the campaign against the head camp's effort to advance rates. This campaign in Wisconsin has cost $1,800 to date and a fund of $5,000 is said to be required to reach every camp in the state. SEVENTY MILES PER HOUR TOO FAST FOR COMMISSION (By Associated Press.) Chicago, Nov. 28.—A 70-mile an hour ride given State Railroad Commissioners Eckhart and Barry on the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago electric route today in the issuance of an order limiting the speed to 50 miles an hour. Investigating charges made by John M. Morlan of Chicago, suing for himself and others, including 35 players at Wheaton, that the road was unsafe and unsatisfactory, the commissioners found the trip. The speed which they found so fast that they pronounced it alarming, was made on a regular train.

MISS SENA HAUGE WEDS CHICAGO MAN

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Hauge Becomes Bride of Herman Rummelhoff Thanksgiving Evening. (SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Edgerton, Nov. 28.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Hauge, when their only daughter, Sena, became the bride of Herman Rummelhoff of Chicago. The ceremony was performed at six o'clock by Rev. Linnevald. Miss Grace Lovine played the wedding march, followed by the song, "Ole Promise Me" by Little Elizabeth Ellingson. The couple was attended by Miss Ingaborg Anderson of this city and Edward Rummelhoff of Chicago, brother of the groom. A four-course dinner was served to forty guests, after which the happy bridal couple disappeared. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white tulle trimmed with shadow lace and carried a bouquet of white roses. After a short wedding trip the happy couple will make their home in Chicago where the groom is employed. A host of friends wish them success in their new home. The Misses Irma Flexer of Joliet, Ill., and Algonia Baker of Ottumwa, Iowa, spent Thanksgiving with Miss Florence Hurd. About thirty members of the T. A. and B. Cadet society and their little friends, accompanied by a number of the mothers, enjoyed a banquet in their hall Thanksgiving evening from 5:30 to 8:30. After the banquet games were played and the little ones spent a delightful evening. The Misses Bessie and Florence Hauge are visiting friends in Madison for a few days. James Harty of Milwaukee was home at the parental home over Thanksgiving. The Misses Frances and Adeline Quigley and Alva Russell of Chicago and Daniel Quigley of Freeport, Ill., were guests of Mrs. P. Quigley over Thanksgiving. Edward Swenson left yesterday for an extended visit with friends and relatives in Menden, North Dakota. Miss Stella Kendt of Milwaukee visited friends here yesterday. Laurent Grand of Madison university spent Thanksgiving with his mother here. Miss Nellie McCauley of Johnstown.

Satan's Present Day Methods

By REV. J. H. HALSTON

Secretary Correspondence Department
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone.—Rev. 20:10.

The ancient conception of the two opposing principles in the universe, although often perverted, is a correct one. There is an eternal, unchangeable and infinitely powerful, holy and loving God, and there is a malicious, wicked and powerful being in the universe whose name is in the text. Whether it is a pleasant thought or not, the devil is the god of this age, and is given great power, and, apparently, anticipating his doom, he is intensely active. Being wicked, he would make wickedness universal, and he uses all possible methods of corrupting men, created in the image and likeness of the God he hates, and unfortunately succeeds with a vast number of them.

The Method of Deception.

The devil now uses the method of deception rather than force, which in some ages of the world was used very generally. This deception may be of several kinds. The devil may assume an attitude of special sanctity, or goodness; he may direct the thought of man to the acceptance of error; or he may delude man to the reception of something that is branded as truly religious. Taking up the first form of deception, the devil appears sometimes as an angel of light. He appeared in a glittering and fascinating form to Eve in the Garden of Eden, and worked the ruin of the race morally. Many believe that the Antichrist, who will presume to take God's place, and thus claim supreme sanctity, will be the devil himself. As we observe the present havoc in religious thinking, and study its evolution, we find that many of those who were champions of doctrinal error have posed as most serious seekers after truth, and have the reputation, oftentimes well established, of being men of sweet temper, most encouraging manners and captivating courtesy. This is not strange, for men of an opposite type, as champions, would at once defeat the devil's purposes.

The method of delusion by leading men away from the truth has one of its strongest features in the persuasion that men should do their own thinking on religious subjects. The specious plea is made that the Christian religion is one of rationality and that therefore men must think out its great problems for themselves. They are urged to let nothing guide them in thinking, not the Bible, nor Christian teachers, but that they should start almost anywhere and work the problems out. The result is inevitable, for man's thoughts are not God's thoughts and God's thoughts only are correct in this sphere, man is ever learning but never able to come to a knowledge of the truth. Indeed, he ordinarily gets further and further from it. Fortunate is the man who sees that he must have some safe starting point for religious thought, and that he must hold himself loyally to the lines of its development.

Satanic Delusions.

We have the delusion of universal salvation based on a false conception of the character of God, emphasis being placed on the love of God, which is unscripturally defined, the justice and holiness of God being practically eliminated from thought. All those yielding to this delusion are not in the denomination known as Universalists, whose courage in professing what they believe is in itself worthy of commendation.

There is the delusion of religious formalism. Men and women are persuaded to attach themselves to religious societies without any demand being made on them to put into their lives the principles of Christian religion, nor for the necessity of a new birth and genuine repentance and simple faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, who is the only Mediator between God and man. Those yielding to this delusion have a form of godliness but deny the power thereof.

There is the delusion of false optimism, which, while not strictly religious, eventuates as religious delusions do. The principle that God is on his throne and all is right with the world, has almost universal approval, being echoed from thousands of pulpits.

We are in a period of delusions along Biblical lines as in no previous age. A man or woman gets some root of religious thought, and pursuing it independently, discovering that in order to its wider acceptance it must have Biblical indorsement, flies to the Bible and selects from its contents that which ostensibly supports the theory proposed. Within the last twenty-five years there have been several such delusions, and hundreds of thousands of men and women have become their victims. These delusions are propagated at the expense of millions of dollars.

LAD OF ELEVEN PUTS DAKOTA ON THE MAP

Henry Granlund.

An eleven-year-old boy has put North Dakota in the corn belt so decisively that farm experts declare it is there to stay.

Henry Granlund is the lad who has brought this about, and he did so by raising 106.7 bushels of matured corn on a measured acre. The boy's remarkable corn growing record was made in connection with a competition handled under the direction of the North Dakota Better Farming association, and for his achievement the lad wins a prize of $175 in gold.

Sense of Smell.

Like the senses of sight and hearing the sense of smell quickly tires, hence it is only before fatigue sets in that a doctor can diagnose different ailments by the sense of smell alone. If he is a smoker or a drinker it is useless to depend upon the nose.

Willing to Be All.

She (coldly)—"A kiss? Certainly not! Don't you know that kissing breeds disease?" He—"Well, who cares! You've studied nursing, haven't you?"

There's nobody as miserable as the fellow who thinks ever dig he hears means him. A wife's love or a father's used to have an uncle in the country who gave him a turkey ever Thanksgiving?

ICEBERGS

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Siam."

An iceberg is a misplaced competitor of the ice trust. Icebergs grow in the polar regions where they are of no use at all and drift down into the steamer lanes where they are of still less use if possible. An iceberg consists of from nine to forty-seven billion tons of fresh ice, all of which goes to dilute the salt water of the ocean and keep it cool enough to use for bathing purposes at Atlantic City and elsewhere. In the meanwhile the babies of the poor, a few hundred miles away, are dying for want of fresh milk.

Icebergs are formed by glaciers, which slide gently down to the sea in the frigid regions, and in the spring break up at the lower end into vast mountains of ice. Some of these chunks are half a mile long and several hundred feet high. They draw nine times as much in feet as their height, so that there is little chance that an iceberg will ever get into New York harbor and block navigation.

When the iceberg is spawned by the glacier it is seized by the restless ocean current and carried relentlessly southward. This is exceedingly hard upon the berg. For all its vast size it is delicate of constitution and as the hot summer sun beats upon it, becomes exceedingly passive and deflected. Nothing looks more enduring and substantial than a vast iceberg. But the tourist who engages passage on one of these leviathans in Baffin's Bay would discover to his horror upon reaching the gulf stream that he was without visible means of support.

All summer long the icebergs swarm down the northern ocean, melting industriously and cooling the atmosphere for miles around in spots where it is cool enough already for all practical purposes. Formerly these bergs were treated with frequent contempt by steamship crews, but, of late they have been given every consideration and are allowed to roam the ocean in peace. Until the governments employ vessels, however, to round up the wandering bergs and hang red and green lights upon them, no one else will feel very comfortable in their vicinity.

Science is gradually rolling up its shirt-sleeves and attacking the great problems of the day, but it has remained silent and indifferent regarding the iceberg. In the iceberg fleets of the spring, vast national resources are going to waste. Let us look forward eagerly to the day when young and inexperienced icebergs will be harpooned by daring ice men and saved into 100-pound blocks for the preservation of human comfort on shore.

The Only Time.

Wife—"Do you love me still, dear?"
Hub—"Why, yes; but you're never still."

CHATTER

After a man's waited long for his ship to come in he usually compromises on a schooner. Maybe joy cometh in the morning, but not if you have made a night of it.

This is a good day to sell but not to speculate. If this is your birthday you might charge or travel this year with benefit to your business or health. Don't keep in the same old rut.

A Staple Medicine for Every Family

No Self Respecting Group of People Should be Without a Good Family Laxative.

LAWRENCE A. WRIGHT.

It is inconceivable in this day of progress and advancement that a simple remedy for the minor ills of life, for often by giving such a remedy in time a serious disease can be frustrated and a life saved.

For example, if at the first sign of a cold a simple laxative-remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin were given, the beginning of a serious lung affection or of a typhoid fever might be avoided. And also in headaches, nervousness, etc., a small dose of this remedy would relieve the congestion and replace distress with comfort. Mothers give it to tiny infants and little children, and grown people take it with equally good effect.

Thousands of good American homes are never without it, among them the home of Mrs. C. A. Wright, 1831 Pasadena Ave., Long Beach, Cal. She had considerable trouble raising little Lawrence, three years old, but after regulating his bowels with small doses of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he began to thrive and she has had no further trouble with him. They use it generally in her home.

Syrup Pepsin saves the health of the family, and it saves doctor's bills. It is a sure cure for any form of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating, etc. Have no hesitancy about giving it to any member of the family, however young or old, for it contains nothing injurious to the youngest person.

A bottle can be obtained at any nearby drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is more economical and is bought by those who have already convinced themselves of its merits. Syrup Pepsin users learn to discard pills, salts, cathartics and purgatives generally, as they are too great a shock to any average system. Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address after eating, etc. Have no hesitancy about giving it to any member of the family, however young or old, for it contains nothing injurious to the youngest person.

Strengthen Your Lungs Is Timely Advice

when consumption claims over 350 daily in the United States. Neglected colds, overwork, confining duties and chronic disorders exert the weakening influence which allows tubercular germs the mastery.

The greatest treatment that science affords is courage, rest, sunshine and Scott's Emulsion.

Scott's Emulsion contains pure cod liver oil to clarify and enrich the blood, strengthen the lungs, rebuild wasted tissue and fortify the resistive forces to throw off disease germs.

Strengthen YOUR lungs with Scott's Emulsion—its benefits are too important to neglect. Physicians everywhere proclaim its worth and warn against alcoholic substitutes.

SPICE CAKE WILL HELP USE SOUR MILK.

It is a foregone conclusion that milk and cream will sour when, too, we least expect or wish it. With the changeable climate of our country, it means sour cream, taking ice the year around or watching from day to day to keep the milk sweet.

It is quite an easy matter for those who live in cities, as ice may be had all or part of the time as good judgment and means suggest, but in the country and small towns it is not to be had and here is where we find many good things to eat made from sour milk, cream or buttermilk.

Too much baking soda in overcoming the acid in sour milk has been used. Result—Food yellow and tasting strong of soda. Soda is an alkali and only enough should be used to overcome and neutralize the acid. This is easily done with one teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda to one pint of sour milk or cream. Then, to every cup of milk or cream a teaspoonful of baking powder may be added for the leavening. Many a good dish will come from its use, such as gingerbread, ginger cookies, molasses cookies, sugar biscuits, cake, spice cake, cold or hot slaw, sour cream for thinning mayonnaise dressing or making the cooked salad dressing, cottage cheese, doughnuts, Boston brown bread, dressing over cucumbers or sauces for fowl.

I remember once in the far West where cream was very expensive and scarce, our cream was discovered sour when ready to make ice cream for a church supper. We carefully added soda until all the acid was neutralized in the cream and made perfect ice cream from it.

Spice Cake.
Material—Light brown sugar, two cups; butter or vegetable fat, one-half cup; sour milk, one cup; flour, scant two and one-half cups; soda, three-quarters teaspoonful; baking powder, one teaspoonful; cinnamon, one teaspoonful; cloves, one-quarter teaspoonful; allspice, one-half teaspoonful; nutmeg, one-half teaspoonful; yolks of eggs, two.

Directions—Cream the butter or other fat and gradually add the sugar and the well-beaten yolks of eggs. Mix all the dry ingredients together and add alternately with the sour milk. Beat well together and bake in two layers in a moderately quick oven.

Filling—Raisins, one cup; sugar, one cup; water, one-third cup; lemon juice, one teaspoonful.

Boil sugar and water until spins a thread and pour while beating over the stiffly beaten white of egg. Add the seeded raisins cut in halves and put this between the cake. Some of the plain icing may be saved for the top and decorated with a spray of raisins.

REJOINS HIS FAMILY AFTER SEVEN YEARS

Maxim Gor'ky.

Maxim Gor'ky, the celebrated Russian novelist, is again living with his family, which is made up of his wife and an 18-year-old son. The beautiful and talented Russian actress, Mme. Andreyeva, who took him from his wife and child seven years ago and accompanied him to America, left him exiled in Italy about a month ago and returned to Moscow to resume her life on the stage.

ECONOMICAL RECIPES.

Buy beef ribs, cover them with a quart of water, a half can of tomatoes, a sliced onion, a red pepper minced and five whole cloves. Season with salt and cover closely. Simmer for three hours.

Gingerbread.—Mix together a half cup of lard and a cup of brown sugar; add a half teaspoonful of cinnamon and one teaspoonful of ginger. In a cupful of boiling water dissolve a teaspoonful of soda. Sift three cupfuls of flour with a teaspoonful of baking powder. Add the boiling water and soda the last thing.

Baked Cheese Puff.—Grease a pudding dish and put into it a layer of sliced bread with a slice of cheese on each slice. Beat one egg light, stir into it a pint of milk, salt slightly and pour the milk over the bread and cheese. Set in the oven and bake until lightly browned, then serve at once. This is a simple, wholesome dish and makes a nutritious one to take the place of meat.

Coffee Tapioca Pudding.—Soak a cupful of tapioca in water and put over the fire in a double boiler with a pint of coffee left from the last meal. Cook until clear, then stir in sugar to taste. Serve hot with sugar and cream.

Codfish Rolls.—Mix together mashed potato and shredded codfish, season with butter, pepper and salt, if needed. Form the mixture into rolls the size of the second finger and three inches long. Roll in flour and fry in hot fat. Serve with a white sauce garnished with parsley.

Bread and Meat Balls.—Put a pound of round steak through a meat chopper. Crumble a half loaf of bread and soak it in a large cup of milk. When soft, squeeze out the milk and add the bread to the meat. Season well, form into balls, roll in flour and fry in hot fat. Season the sauce with tomato catsup.

"Now! It's the easiest thing in the world."

PRETTY SATIN GOWN FOR EVENING

This pretty evening gown is made of corn-colored satin, and trimmed with bands of fur. A large black velvet rose trims the draped grille of yellow velvet which passes beneath the bloused portion of the waist. The upper part of the skirt is draped below the right hip. A ruffle of hemstitched white chiffon trims one side of the skirt.

THE "CRIMSON RAMBLER."

I HAVE just received a letter on the borderland between the pathetic and the amusing. The evidently sincere distress of the writer emboldens me to write upon a subject that does not often appear in print. I do so, by, let me mention that I do not see any reason for the lated breath with which you speak of this subject. "A bed bug," says Elbert Hubbard, "is all right except in its official capacity." Of course, no one likes to meet the "crimson rambler" (as some delicate person has named him) in his official capacity, but that is no reason why we should not openly discuss the ways to exterminating him.

My reader friend says that her little boy has been sleeping in the living room this summer, that in some way "crimson rambler" were brought into the house and have infested the living room. She says: "It is quite a serious matter at any time but in one's parlor— you may imagine, I have prayed about the matter, so believe it is best to write you. Have used gasoline."

Let me tell you my experience. You notice I am not ashamed to say that. Almost every housekeeper, no matter how good, has "crimson rambler" brought into her house once or twice in her lifetime. Now, it is no reflection whatever on her housekeeping if some member of the family gets one of these creatures on his clothes in the trolley, or if the unwelcome guests smuggle themselves in in the washing (that was my experience). And yet whenever the thing happens the unfortunate housewives act as if they were disgraced, and refuse to speak of the fatal subject above a whisper.

To return to my experience: my reader friend says she used gasoline. So did I and it did no good, but that was because I used it spasmodically. One day I sprayed the bed and left the closet untouched, the next day vice versa. Then one day, I started on a thorough campaign. I bought an atomizer, such as one uses to spray one's face, and a gallon of gasoline. With these went to work. I sprayed every crack and corner in the room, including the picture moulding, the cracks between the base-board and the floor, etc., etc. Then I sprayed every piece of furniture, inside and out, including the bureau drawers, then the closet, taking every garment out and locking it over thoroughly. The bed and mattress, of course, received special attention. The campaign took one helper and myself the whole day, but it was time saved in the end, for I never found a live "crimson rambler" after that day.

The atomizer is important as it throws a strong stream which penetrates into the cracks. Remember to air out thoroughly before lighting a match for before I made this stand. This treatment should be repeated every day until the bed and mattress, of course, received special attention. ## Heart and Home Problems

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson—(1) There are five girls belonging to a club and all are either sixteen or seventeen years of age. Kindly suggest a name for the club.

(2) I am anxious to make a Christmas present for a young man, please mention a few objects which would be suitable as a gift for a young man of twenty-one years of age.

SOPHOMORE.

(1) What do you think of the name "The Happy Quilters" as a name for your club, or "The Busy Five"? (2) Some of the prettiest gifts you can make are the dainty boudoir caps that are so popular now, and the pretty net and lace hushers, or the bows used to decorate the front of the waist.

My Dear Mrs. Thompson—(1) I am eighteen years old and four feet, 11 inches tall. Am I short for my age? (2) I am twenty-two waist-line, thirty-six bust, thirty-seven and one-half hips; am I too stout? I would like to be a little thinner if possible. (3) Am I too young to go with a steady friend if my parents do not object? (4) Is it all right for me to accept a birthday gift from a young man? (5) Is a girl at nineteen too young to be married, or is it all right? (6) What is good for thin, short hair? (7) What will be nice for a Christmas gift for a young man. (8) What color will be worn this winter?

SWEET EIGHTEEN.

(1) You are rather shorter than the average. Some people grow taller even after they are eighteen. (2) You are a bit stout for your height and age. To get thinner, eat less and exercise more. (3) Yes, if it is nothing more than candy, flowers or perhaps a book or pair of gloves. It should not be expensive enough to place you under obligations to him, if you are not engaged to marry him.

How should I treat him now?

Forget all about it, my dear. If you make him feel that you are watching him and taking the right to criticize him, he will soon tire of your company. Don't be jealous of his sister-in-law, and don't listen too much to others who may be trying to make trouble between you. There are always trouble-makers who know.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—Will you please tell me what will take malted milk out of a silk and wool skirt?

M. C.

Gasoline might take this out; chloroform might be better. Put a clean blotter under the spot, then take a piece of the same goods as the skirt, if possible, dip it in the chloroform and brush the spot gently, working from the outside in to the center of the stain. If the skirt is badly stained, and you can get it to a dry cleaner, the results will be much better than if you try to clean it at home.

Household Hint

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.
Carbonate of soda will remove the most obstinate of mud stains. Rub off with a cloth or flannel dipped in the soda, then press well on the wrong side of the material with a warm iron.

A little mustard rubbed on the hands before washing them will remove the odor of the fish.

To keep clothes from freezing on the line in cold weather, put a little salt in the last rinsing water.

In making fruit, pour half the batter into the pan before adding not be found at the bottom of the dredged fruit, then, the fruit will cake.

THE TABLE.
Squash Biscuits—One-half cup of squash (steamed and sifted), one spoonful of salt, one-half cup of scalded milk, one-quarter yeast cake dissolved in one-quarter cup of lukewarm water, one-quarter cup of butter, two and one-half cups of flour. Add the squash, yeast, salt and butter to the milk; when lukewarm, add the dissolved yeast cake and flour; cover, and let rise over night. In the morning shape into biscuits, let rise, and bake.

Milk Toast—One pint of scalded milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two and one-half tablespoonfuls of bread flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, cold water, six slices of dry toast. Add the cold water gradually to the flour to make a smooth thin paste. Add to the milk, stirring constantly until thickened, cover, and cook twenty minutes; then add the salt and butter in small pieces. Dip the slices of toast separately in sauce; when soft remove to a serving dish. Pour the remaining sauce over all.

Eckwheat Cakes—One-third cup of fine bread crumbs, two cups of scalded milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter yeast cake, one-half cup of lukewarm water, one and three-fourths cups of buckwheat flour, one tablespoonful of molasses. Pour the milk over the crumbs, and soak thirty minutes; add the salt, yeast cake dissolved in lukewarm water, and buckwheat to make a batter thin enough to pour. Let rise over night; in the morning, stir well, add the molasses, one-fourth teaspoonful of soda dissolved in one-fourth cup of lukewarm water, and cook same as griddle cakes. Save enough batter to raise another mixing, instead of using yeast cake; it will require one-half cup.

Swiss Potato Soup—Four small potatoes, one large flat white turnip, three cups of boiling water, one quart of scalded milk, one-half onion, four tablespoonfuls of butter, one-third cup of flour, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, one-third teaspoonful of pepper.

Wash, pare and cut the potatoes in halves. Wash, pare and cut the turnips in one-quarter inch slices. Parboil together ten minutes, drain, add the onion cut in slices and three cups of boiling water. Cook until the vegetables are soft. Drain, reserving the water to add to the vegetables after rubbing them through a sieve. Add the milk, reheat, and bind with butter.

toast. Add the cold water gradually to the flour to make a smooth thin paste. Add to the milk, stirring constantly until thickened, cover, and cook twenty minutes; then add the salt and butter in small pieces. Dip the slices of toast separately in sauce; when soft remove to a serving dish. Pour the remaining sauce over all.

Butter and flour cooked together. Season with salt and pepper.

Oyster Sauce—One pint of oysters, one-fourth cup of butter, one-fourth cup of flour, one cup of milk or chicken stock, salt, pepper, oyster liquor.

Wash the oysters, reserve the liquor, heat, strain, add the oysters, and cook until plump. Remove the oysters, and make a sauce of butter, flour, oyster liquor, and milk. Add the oysters, and season with salt and pepper.

Frozen Tomato Salad—Open one quart of can tomatoes, turn from the can and let stand one hour that they may be re-oxygenated. Add three tablespoonfuls of sugar, and season highly with salt and cayenne; then rub through a sieve. Turn into one-half pound breakfast-cocoa boxes, cover tightly, pack in salt and ice, using equal parts, and let stand for three hours. Remove from mould, arrange on lettuce leaves and serve with mayonnaise dressing.

BOOKS ON BUSINESS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

Valuable Information to be Found in Volumes Which Have Recently
Been Put in Circulation.

Among the books recently added to the Janesville Public Library the following will be of especial interest to the business men and women: Art of decorating show windows and interiors, complete manual of window dressing, fully equipped with important subject. Banks—Correct business and legal forms, valuable book for the stenographer or business secretary, containing good principles and illustrations and devices for time-saving forms of court documents and legal papers, and much other practical information needed in an office. New type of book on advertising, pronounced by an expert the most valuable of recent books for a business man. Very practical discussions of the principles and methods of advertising are supplemented, in each chapter, by records of actual experience showing how certain methods have produced successful results. Ferris—Pete Crowther, salesman. "Pete Crowther" is a type of the hustling Western salesman, and in these stories he expounds in characteristic style and ethics and psychology of salesmanship. They have no plot, but will interest men for their exposition of modern business methods. Hirschler—Art of retailing. The secret. Munsterberg—Psychology and industrial efficiency. The feasibility of systematically applying experimental psychology to the service of practical industry is maintained, particularly in the matter of vocational guidance, scientific management, and advertising. Read Salesmanship. A simple direct statement of the well-known fundamentals of the science of selling, arranged for the study of young men and women. Stockwell—Essential elements of business character. Simple and stimulating survey of the qualities necessary for success in business. What to read on business. This is a list of books dealing with business subjects. Each title is accompanied by a note which concisely and accurately characterizes it. Will be interesting to business men who wish a survey of the business books related to their own activities. Wilbur—Everyday business for women. Valuable and easily understood explanation of business methods which any woman ought to know.

BROOKLYN

Brooklyn, Nov. 26.—Mrs. Mary McDaniels and little son have gone to Chicago to join Mr. McDaniels, who has a position in that city. Miss Katie Noyes of Evansville was a guest of Miss Daisy Baldwin Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Clint Shotts have returned from a visit in the northern part of the state. A mission study class has been organized by the Epworth League and had its first meeting Monday evening at the home of Miss Elmer Winter. The class consists of fourteen members and is studying immigration, using as their text-book "Immigrant Forces." A. G. Ellis is serving on the Green county board at Monroe. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Campbell and children of Evansville were guests Sunday at the John Odegard home. Edward Karmgard, who has been spending the summer near Oregon has returned to his home in this village. Mrs. L. M. Burt and son Donald left Tuesday to visit her sister at Webster City, Iowa. They were accompanied by Mrs. Burt's father, who will spend the winter at that place. Miss Harriet Lamm of Madison spent Sunday at the L. J. Graves home. Charles Curless and family of Evansville spent Sunday with relatives in town. Will Norton of Madison spent Sunday at the home of his parents. Clifford Hoyt of Madison was in town the first of the week. Mrs. Fannie Amidon was a Janesville visitor Tuesday.

MILTON

Milton, Wis., Nov. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Norton of Columbus, Ohio, Paul T. Norton, Jr., of Union, Wisconsin, are spending Thanksgiving day at President and Mrs. Daland's. J. N. Daland and family are also home from Madison for the holiday. Miss Grace Bohnell, of Elizabeth, N. J., is likewise spending the week at the president's home. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Anderson were the victims of a pleasant surprise party Sunday. Messrs. C. H. and Fred Osborn, I. G. Stone and W. Cumlerin and their wives dropped in on them, bringing the materials for a good dinner and a nice set of dining room chairs. Lieut. O. C. Warner of Fort Ward, Washington, is visiting Milton friends. Du Lac lodge I. O. O. F. elected five candidates for membership and initiated two Monday evening. Geo. Coon and Miss Nettie Coon are visiting Chicago friends. Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Carr will eat their Thanksgiving turkey with the Himan family at Carpentersville, Illinois. Dr. E. E. Campbell and F. H. Campbell and families enjoyed Thanksgiving with Walworth friends. Beginning Monday night, December 1, and closing Sunday night, December 7, gospel meetings will be held in the S. D. B. church at Milton, conducted by Pastors Jordan and Raudolph. Special music will be furnished. A Christian Endeavor Rally has been arranged to be held in Milton and Milton Junction, beginning Friday evening, December 28th, and continuing through Sunday. The Alhion societies will combine with these two societies, and one of the best meetings in this district is looked for.

SHOPIERE

Shopiere, Nov. 26.—Chas. Kemmerer and two daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Porter of Janesville attended church here Sunday morning. W. W. Weirich of Beloit spent over Sunday at his home here. The Royal Neighbors will meet December 4th at the home of Mrs. Atkinson for election of officers. The Congregational ladies will meet Friday at the home of Mrs. Spicer.

The Theater

"STOP THIEF." Crook plays and the light fingered fraternity make the most interesting plays these days, three of them, were produced in New York last season and each one appeared to root with marked success. "Stop Thief," which Cohan and Harris produced at the Gaiety Theater outdistanced the others and appeared to be as popular at the end of the season as it was when first produced. There is a reason for this. The author, Carlyle Moore made his characters bold and of the smooth order. He introduced into the play two kleptomaniacs, a real crook, and a wedding. Not only does this play keep an audience convulsed with laughter but it has the effect of making one keep one's hand on one's watch and looking to see that one's diamond has not been plucked from one's hand. It is demonstrated throughout the three acts that the hand is quicker than the eye. The same company which appeared at the Chicago, New York, and last season will give a performance at the Myers Theater, Friday, November 28.

and the M. F. ladies will meet at the church for an all day meeting. Mrs. Duesing of Beloit is visiting her brother, M. C. Uehling and family. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Manley and children and Mrs. A. B. Manley of Beloit spent over Sunday at J. Shineall's. The M. E. ladies will have their fair and chicken pie supper December 3rd afternoon and evening. Master Charles Hogan entertained a number of his friends Friday afternoon in honor of his 19th birthday. F. Quigley is making extensive repairs on his creamery. Mrs. A. Weirich entertained the Ladies Circle Club Tuesday evening. Miss Eleanor Spicer visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hammond over Sunday at Janesville.

ALBANY

Albany, Nov. 25.—Mr. Clayton Burt is home on a vacation from the west, where he has been employed by the government in surveying. Mrs. Dwight Bump of Illinois is here visiting her sister, Mrs. E. L. Fleck and other relatives. Mr. Henry Stephenson and two children of Janesville called on his mother here Saturday. R. C. Whitcomb and family and Norman Atherton and family spent Sunday here with relatives. Dr. E. L. Eaton of Madison gave very interesting discourses Sunday and Monday evening, which were enjoyed by all who heard him. This is a special number preliminary to the five numbers of the lecture course to be given this winter. About $47 was cleared at the chicken pie supper given at the Baptist church last Tuesday evening. Mrs. Harold Flint visited her

Fads and Fashions

The new "line" or silhouette is still in the making and heaven only knows what it is going to be. Judging from some of the extreme "advance models" displayed by noted fashion designers in Paris and elsewhere, the coming style promises to be a sort of cross between Oriental trousers and a ballet skirt. However, a great many things may happen before the new style crystallizes into definite form. Some of the best Parisian dressmakers are introducing a curious combination of panniers and tunics, the panniers being rather flat and the tunics distinctly Parisian in outline. This style was exploited with considerable success in a dinner gown of orange colored charmeuse which was shown by one of the exclusive designers recently. On the draped fronts of this skirt there were some fine chiffon of the exact shade of the most prominent designs on the skirt. Then there was a Persian tunic of diamond tulle, fringed with crystal and a folded corsage of oyster white tulle, mounted over flesh pink chiffon. There were diamond shoulder straps and a broad sash of black crepe de chine embroidered in cut jet and finished off with jet fringes. At the waist, directly in the center, there was a conventional flower which are made of velvet or plush. The flower was in velvet of the deepest shade of blue, and for a heart it had a huge diamond button.

One of the newest and most successful materials for afternoon wear is "drap de neige." This lovely cloth is as its name suggests, pure white. In texture it resembles duvetyne, but it is even softer and more supple than this famous material. Drap de neige is being largely used by one of the most exclusive tailors in Paris. He is making it up into ideal walking and skating suits for girls, and he is trimming it with bands of white fox and also with Siberian fox. The latter combination is wonderfully effective, for this fox is lemon yellow in color and the linings of coats and wraps are made to match. There is no more satisfying combination of colors than lemon yellow and white or oyster white. With a clever touch of some deep vivid color in the hat a perfect ensemble is obtained.

Another new material is velvet chiffon. This stuff is heavier than mousseline de velours and very much more durable. It is being made in all the rich shades of claret and red, which are now so fashionable, and in the purple known as "violet de Monseigneur" it is of rare beauty. Taffeta combined with velvet is a well liked combination for bridge gowns. The taffeta usually appears in flounces or tunic of the skirt, and again as collar and trimming on the bodice. From the noted Paris designers, delights in black taffeta for the bustle-line drapery on his velvet costumes, but if the gown is to be worn for bridge, where the wearer must necessarily be seated for some time, the elaborate back drapings are not practical.

Second in demand to velvet at the present time is duvetyne, the all-silk fabric which has proved more popular and wearable than the silk and wool combinations. By way of variety two new duvetyns have been introduced by the creator of the original fabric, a striped effect resembling corduroy and a brocade design. The plain duvetyne combined with either of these makes an interesting gown. Through there is sufficient body in the all-silk duvetyne to make it an ideal material for the three-piece street costume, yet it is not too warm for interior frock, especially when it is combined with chiffon or some other thin material.

In fact, many of the velvet dresses, as well as the duvetyne, display the popular transparent bodice of chiffon. A stunning frock of taupe colored duvetyne had a bodice in the self tone embroidered in gold thread and an apron effect on the skirt of the duvetyne more richly embroidered in the gold thread. The contrasting color was introduced in the sash, a brocade affair in which green and blue and purple and yellow were marvelously blended. Effective as this splash of color was, it was the chiffon bodice that made the frock comfortable.

The demand for comfortable bodices for interior wear is also answered by the sleeveless bolero waist. The bolero may match a skirt of velvet or even a woollen fabric, but the sleeves of chiffon or a thin silk, make the gown wearable and comfortable in a steam-heated apartment.

The increasing interest displayed in the three-piece costumes and the jacket dresses has brought about a corresponding revival of interest in the blouse. For a blouse displaying a feature like the bolero makes the combination of skirt and shirt-waist look remarkably like one of the popular jacket dresses, and the shops are beginning to sell blouses of heavy materials, like velvet, in various colors. Heretofore there has been practically no sale, except in a few specialty shops, for a blouse that is not of the lingerie order, or of crepe de chine or taffeta. This winter women have discovered that a very presentable three-piece costume can be evolved by matching the skirt with a velvet blouse.

The basque blouse has a serious rival in the bolero waist, which is the favored mode of the hour. It makes little difference how the bolero lines are produced so long as the effect is there. Sometimes the embroidery on a lace waist will be carried out to simulate a bolero; again, a veiling of chiffon or net may be arranged to give the desired effect, but more often the necessary lines are procured by insertion of lace or braid motifs or galloon.

One sees quite as many short sleeves as very long ones; in fact, the three quarter length is a good average. The long bishop sleeves of chiffon in a blouse of black velvet, worn recently for a luncheon at one of the large hotels, displayed very clearly the charm of this style of sleeve. Other long sleeves fit the arm more closely and extend well over the hand; sometimes they are held in at the wrist by a band of black velvet ribbon drawn through a slide of jewels.

The particularly bright color of this winter is sulphur, and it is shown on many of the newest blouses. On a charming little net model it appeared in the pipelined ribbon vestee and on the collar and cuffs. On another blouse it was used combined with black in the crushed girdle. This girdle finish is a new one this winter, and is carried out in velours, velvet or ribbon, and generally in two colors. Burgundy and old gold, old gold and green, and blue and old gold are, perhaps, the favorite color combinations. Over this girdle the waist blouses freely, for the smartness of this winter's waist lies in its generally sloppy, slouchy lines.

FLORENCE FAIRBANKS.

Has Left a Descendant.

Replying to the tracer that was sent out for the old-fashioned doctor who arranged to have somebody call him out every time a public meeting was held, the Emporia Gazette says he has gone, alas. "But his blushing son is here and is being mentioned as a Harmond candidate for office."

Comparatively Simple. A clergyman whose patriotism exceeded his powers of oratory was speaking upon his favorite subject. At last he felt that something great was required of him. He worked himself up to a climax. "Patriotism," he exclaimed, "is the backbone of the British empire, and what we have to do is to train that backbone and bring it to the front."
